Beware of Fake Travel Agency Websites Offering Hotel Bookings

We have received a report from attendees that fake travel agency websites are attempting to offer hotel bookings under the pretense of being affiliated with our meeting.

Please be aware that these agencies have no connection with our organization and may be fraudulent.

Points to Watch Out For

- Do not respond to hotel booking offers from agencies that are not officially affiliated with our conference.
- If you receive suspicious emails or phone calls, do not share your personal or credit card information.
